

Teagan Stedman, Chairman and Founder Shred Kids' Cancer.

Teagan founded Shred Kids' Cancer in November 2008 after seeing his friend suffer from battling cancer and wanting to do more than ask "Are you going to be ok". After two years of successful events involving other kids, in August 2010 he sought out to make Shred Kids' Cancer "official" by researching and creating a budget, business plan, wrote By Laws, got directors, filed articles of incorporation, filed form 1023 and form 3500 with the State of California and obtained 501c3 status from the IRS. He has solicited sponsorships, grants, auction items, raised money and awareness and recruited other children and adults to help fund research to cure childhood cancer.

He enjoys playing guitar and has been in an original rock band for 3 years writing, recording and performing original music all around Los Angeles.
